

A Mother's Declaration

I declare that you are a child of the Highest King, you belong in the Father's House. You are royal nobility, precious in the Father's eyes. You are loved beyond measure, worthy of the Father's love. You are valuable and valued. You are important. You have something unique and God gifted to bring to this world. I declare God's plans and purposes for your life to be fulfilled in overflowing abundance. I declare God's promises over you. His blessing and anointing poured out, a double portion. I declare that you are protected under the shadow of His wings. May the Holy Spirit lead you and guide you. May His angels surround you. May no enemy gain territory over you. May the Lord intervene, working behind the scenes to bring goodness out of every season. May God know when you rise and when you fall. May He watch over you and keep you safe. May He draw near to you even on days when you do not feel His presence, may you know He is always present. I declare that you will be strong and courageous. You will not fear or be afraid. You will not be consumed with worry or anxiety. You will carry peace and truth with you wherever you go. I declare endurance over you. You will persevere through hard times. You will not give up, you will not give in. I declare fruitfulness and favour over you, that you will be successful in whatever you put your hand to, because the Lord your God is with you wherever you go. I pray that you would be generous and kind. I pray that you would choose your words wisely and be careful how you use your tongue. That you would speak life to all you meet. I pray your heart would be soft toward God. That you would have a discerning spirit enabling you to know what is right and what is wrong. May you fall in love with God's Word, allowing it to be written on your heart. I pray that you would know God. Deeply. For yourself. I pray that you would have your own revelation of His unconditional, undying, no strings attached, reckless love.

A Mother's Declaration

I declare that you are a child of the Highest King, you belong in the Father's House. You are royal nobility, precious in the Father's eyes. You are loved beyond measure, worthy of the Father's love. You are valuable and valued. You are important. You have something unique and God gifted to bring to this world. I declare God's plans and purposes for your life to be fulfilled in overflowing abundance. I declare God's promises over you. His blessing and anointing poured out, a double portion. I declare that you are protected under the shadow of His wings. May the Holy Spirit lead you and guide you. May His angels surround you. May no enemy gain territory over you. May the Lord intervene, working behind the scenes to bring goodness out of every season. May God know when you rise and when you fall. May He watch over you and keep you safe. May He draw near to you even on days when you do not feel His presence, may you know He is always present. I declare that you will be strong and courageous. You will not fear or be afraid. You will not be consumed with worry or anxiety. You will carry peace and truth with you wherever you go. I declare endurance over you. You will persevere through hard times. You will not give up, you will not give in. I declare fruitfulness and favour over you, that you will be successful in whatever you put your hand to, because the Lord your God is with you wherever you go. I pray that you would be generous and kind. I pray that you would choose your words wisely and be careful how you use your tongue. That you would speak life to all you meet. I pray your heart would be soft toward God. That you would have a discerning spirit enabling you to know what is right and what is wrong. May you fall in love with God's Word, allowing it to be written on your heart. I pray that you would know God. Deeply. For yourself. I pray that you would have your own revelation of His unconditional, undying, no strings attached, reckless love.

A Mother's Declaration

I declare that you are a child of the Highest King, you belong in the Father's House. You are royal nobility, precious in the Father's eyes. You are loved beyond measure, worthy of the Father's love. You are valuable and valued. You are important. You have something unique and God gifted to bring to this world. I declare God's plans and purposes for your life to be fulfilled in overflowing abundance. I declare God's promises over you. His blessing and anointing poured out, a double portion. I declare that you are protected under the shadow of His wings. May the Holy Spirit lead you and guide you. May His angels surround you. May no enemy gain territory over you. May the Lord intervene, working behind the scenes to bring goodness out of every season. May God know when you rise and when you fall. May He watch over you and keep you safe. May He draw near to you even on days when you do not feel His presence, may you know He is always present. I declare that you will be strong and courageous. You will not fear or be afraid. You will not be consumed with worry or anxiety. You will carry peace and truth with you wherever you go. I declare endurance over you. You will persevere through hard times. You will not give up, you will not give in. I declare fruitfulness and favour over you, that you will be successful in whatever you put your hand to, because the Lord your God is with you wherever you go. I pray that you would be generous and kind. I pray that you would choose your words wisely and be careful how you use your tongue. That you would speak life to all you meet. I pray your heart would be soft toward God. That you would have a discerning spirit enabling you to know what is right and what is wrong. May you fall in love with God's Word, allowing it to be written on your heart. I pray that you would know God. Deeply. For yourself. I pray that you would have your own revelation of His unconditional, undying, no strings attached, reckless love.

A Mother's Declaration

I declare that you are a child of the Highest King, you belong in the Father's House. You are royal nobility, precious in the Father's eyes. You are loved beyond measure, worthy of the Father's love. You are valuable and valued. You are important. You have something unique and God gifted to bring to this world. I declare God's plans and purposes for your life to be fulfilled in overflowing abundance. I declare God's promises over you. His blessing and anointing poured out, a double portion. I declare that you are protected under the shadow of His wings. May the Holy Spirit lead you and guide you. May His angels surround you. May no enemy gain territory over you. May the Lord intervene, working behind the scenes to bring goodness out of every season. May God know when you rise and when you fall. May He watch over you and keep you safe. May He draw near to you even on days when you do not feel His presence, may you know He is always present. I declare that you will be strong and courageous. You will not fear or be afraid. You will not be consumed with worry or anxiety. You will carry peace and truth with you wherever you go. I declare endurance over you. You will persevere through hard times. You will not give up, you will not give in. I declare fruitfulness and favour over you, that you will be successful in whatever you put your hand to, because the Lord your God is with you wherever you go. I pray that you would be generous and kind. I pray that you would choose your words wisely and be careful how you use your tongue. That you would speak life to all you meet. I pray your heart would be soft toward God. That you would have a discerning spirit enabling you to know what is right and what is wrong. May you fall in love with God's Word, allowing it to be written on your heart. I pray that you would know God. Deeply. For yourself. I pray that you would have your own revelation of His unconditional, undying, no strings attached, reckless love.